ABOUT

The Best Bad Things

bestbadthings.com

<https://tinyurl.com/BestBadThingsYoutube>

The Best Bad Things tells stories of the grit, gumption and glamor of the adventurous women determined to carve out a future in what we now know as San Francisco. They arrived, survived and thrived on the Barbary Coast and beyond in a city where at one point there was ONE WOMAN to every 1000 men! From Spanish California and the Gold Rush to the Roaring 20s and Fabulous 50s, these amazing women and their enterprising pursuits blossomed into the vibrant community and culture we enjoy today.

Our first Livestream event showcases some Bad girls, Crusaders and High-Living Women: Bertha Stanley Heyman (aka Big Bertha), Donaldina Cameron, Alma Spreckels, Lola Montez, and Dorothea Lange, with all original music by composers Allison Lovejoy and Candace Forest. Arranged as Conversations, Lovejoy and Forest, along with Natalie Greene, Beth Wilmurt, and Lua Hadar, explore the stories and share the music in this Saturday October 17, Sneak Peek, LIVE on Youtube at 5pm Pacific time. <https://youtu.be/YHLqyfVZIBY>

The Wild Women Collaborative

<https://www.bestbadthings.com/creative-team>

We are composers and songwriters, choreographers and directors, singers, actors, storytellers, writers, musicians and independent producers. As we make art about history, San Francisco's heroic women inspire and sustain us through these challenging times. We dedicate this first Livestream event to a great crusader for Women's Rights, Ruth Bader Ginsburg.
